Available again! Deal fell through, no fault of the property – ready for new offers! A Rare Architectural Masterpiece in Paine Heights. This is more than a home—it's a piece of history, an architectural treasure waiting for the right vision to restore its full glory. Originally built in 1925 by its architect as his personal residence, 129 Lyncroft Road was once hailed as the finest home in all of New Rochelle—a title it still lives up to today. Nearly a century later, in 2024, this stunning estate was once again recognized for its exceptional craftsmanship, earning a feature in Brownstoner Magazine. From the moment you arrive, you'll be captivated by the unparalleled details that make this home truly one of a kind. The grand stone facade and circular driveway set the stage for what lies within. This remarkable estate exudes elegance, character, and potential. Its masterful craftsmanship, cast wood-grain detailing, and hand-carved beam ceilings set it apart from anything seen today. Inside, the impressive entryway leads to a formal living room featuring a marble fireplace, natural wood floors, and intricate architectural details. The oversized kitchen flows into a sun-drenched solarium and a private office/library. A unique addition to the home is an elevator, adding another layer of comfort and functionality. Upstairs, you'll find a sprawling master suite with an en-suite bath and walk-in closet, plus two large bedrooms. The third floor offers flexible space for a playroom, additional office, or creative retreat. The full-length lower level provides endless possibilities—entertainment area, gym, or guest suite. Outside, the serene yard offers a private escape—a true urban oasis in one of New Rochelle's most prestigious neighborhoods. Foreclosure sale by lender, sold AS-IS. Renovation loans or cash buyers only.
