Stately Tudor home set on a prominent corner lot in the quiet Fisher Hill neighborhood of White Plains, showcasing timeless character and original architectural details. With 5 bedrooms and 2.5 baths, this spacious residence is well-suited for extended living, while offering comfort and flexibility throughout. A charming covered entry opens to a warm interior featuring a classic living room with fireplace, an oversized sunroom ideal for a home office, playroom, or den, and a formal dining room with a coffered ceiling and butler's pantry. The brand-new kitchen is thoughtfully appointed with gray shaker cabinetry, quartz countertops, stainless steel appliances, and direct access to a wood deck, perfect for everyday living and outdoor dining. Bathrooms have been tastefully refreshed, while the third floor showcases new luxury vinyl flooring, and fresh interior paint pairs seamlessly with beautifully refinished floors throughout, creating a cohesive and polished feel. Conveniently located near shopping, Metro-North, schools, dining, and major highways, this home offers a rare combination of space, character, and modern updates. Adding to its appeal is a unique as-of-right subdivision opportunity on the oversized corner lot. The property can be divided to create a fully compliant building lot for a 3,000 sq ft single-family home, offering the option to live in the existing Tudor while building new. The current property also provides the potential for the lot to be subdivided into 2 single family properties while retaining the existing home. With both lots conforming to current zoning, this is a rare opportunity for end users, investors, or developers alike.
