A legal two-family Colonial with roots back to 1906, 82 Clove Road offers roughly 2,430 square feet of livable space and the kind of layout that opens doors. Live in one unit and let the other help carry the mortgage, run it as a true investment property, or settle in as a multi-generational household with room for everyone to have their own corner. The first-floor unit welcomes you with two bedrooms, a full bath, a comfortable living room, and an eat-in kitchen anchored by green marble countertops and plenty of cabinet space. Original character runs throughout. Tucked at the front of the home, a legalized office with its own private entrance and full bath last served as a chiropractic practice. It opens up a third use case, whether that's a professional office, a work-from-home setup, or additional living space. Upstairs, the second unit lives large across two floors with a private entrance of its own. The second floor features two bedrooms, including a primary with two closets, a full bath, a living room, and a kitchen. A flight up, the third floor offers another bedroom, a full bath, and a cozy living area, accessible from the main stairwell or its own entry door. Two Mr. Cool ductless split systems keep both floors comfortable in every season. Downstairs, the full basement handles laundry, storage, the furnace, and a recently updated water heater. Light pours in from every side. Windows across all three floors keep the home bright from morning through late afternoon. Out front, a long driveway leads to a two-car garage, a rare find for the neighborhood. Out back, a large patio opens to a beautifully landscaped yard with a rose garden in full bloom come summer. The New Rochelle Metro-North station sits about a mile away, with Grand Central roughly 35 minutes away.
