This charming, classic 1920s Tudor with four bedrooms, one full bath, and one-half bath offers a generous living room with a cozy stone fireplace surround, oversized dining room, and spacious kitchen for those who enjoy making dinners with ample counter space, plus a kitchen island for sipping wine from the built-in wine chiller. The second floor includes four bedrooms, including a flexible fourth bedroom ideal as a nursery, and one full bath. A door and staircase offer easy access to a spacious attic that's ideal for storage. Classic hardwood flooring refinished in 2026. Backyard privacy fencing was installed in 2024, and natural gas boiler and hot water heater are recently updated. 51 Clark Place is just a 0.5 mile to the Metro-North train station and 0.2 miles to the nearest bus stop. There's plenty of driveway parking for several cars, all leading to a large detached garage for storage and a private backyard perfect for entertaining. This home boasts a Pearl SCORE of 420. (The score measures hidden, high-performance features that improve daily livability, such as energy efficiency and indoor air quality, translating home features into quantifiable benefits for the owner.) Some of the features powering this strong, above-average Pearl SCORE include newer energy-efficient windows on the first floor, second floor and attic, as well as new air sealing and attic insulation (2025) installed by Healthy Home. Take a tour of your charming new home!
