Welcome to 61 E Maple Avenue—a beautifully maintained Dutch Colonial offering classic 1920s character, thoughtful updates, and one of Suffern's most convenient locations. Set behind professional landscaping, a long driveway and a charming brick patio, this inviting home makes a wonderful first impression. The stucco exterior, covered front entry, newer roof and updated windows provide a well-maintained foundation, while inside, the original character has been beautifully preserved. High ceilings, wide door and window trim, custom built-ins and gleaming hardwood floors are reminders of the craftsmanship of another era. The first floor features beautiful red oak flooring, while the second floor retains its original pine floors. The formal living room is warm and inviting, centered around a wood-burning fireplace. Across the foyer, the formal dining room features custom built-ins and plenty of space for everyday meals or larger gatherings. The expanded kitchen is filled with natural light from a skylight and opens toward the covered back patio, creating an easy transition to dining and entertaining al fresco. A converted three-season room adds even more flexibility, currently serving as a terrific work-from-home office or hobby space. A powder room completes the first floor. Upstairs, the primary suite offers generous closet space and its own dedicated bath. Two additional bedrooms share a hall bath, while a walk-up attic provides convenient storage. The full unfinished basement offers even more storage and utility. Outside, the property is just as well cared for. The fenced backyard provides a private setting for relaxing, entertaining or enjoying the outdoors, while the detached two-car garage and long driveway provide something that's increasingly hard to find—ample parking for both residents and guests. And the location is hard to beat. You're minutes from downtown Suffern's shopping, restaurants, coffee shops and everyday conveniences, with easy access to the NYC commute. The home is also located in the highly regarded Suffern Central School District. A home with this much character, this level of care, and this kind of location doesn't come along often. 61 E Maple Avenue is a wonderful opportunity to enjoy the charm of a classic Suffern home without giving up the conveniences of today.
