On one of Wykagyl Park's prettiest streets, this beautifully updated white Colonial pairs classic architecture with graciously scaled rooms and a private outdoor setting. A welcoming center hall opens to sunlit living and dining rooms, where wood floors and detailed trim lend a sense of enduring character. The wood-paneled study, lined with built-in bookshelves, offers a particularly inviting place to retreat. Two main-floor bedrooms and a full bath add welcome flexibility. At the heart of the home, the spacious kitchen has a central island, generous cabinetry and counter space, wall ovens, and room for casual dining. An arched window lends the space distinction, while a glass doorway opens to the deck and garden beyond. Upstairs, four bright, generously proportioned bedrooms are complemented by three bathrooms. The primary suite has its own sitting area and a luxurious bath with a double vanity and tub. The remaining bedrooms are equally spacious, with ample closet space and a layout that allows everyone room to settle in. An exposed-beam recreation room with a fireplace brings warmth and character to the lower level. Outdoors, the deck overlooks a lawn framed by established plantings for privacy. Full house generator. Close to shops and Metro-North, this is a Wykagyl Park home with the space, character, and setting to make a lasting impression.
